

Seminar on Indian knowledge system

GUWAHATI, Feb 8: A two-day national seminar on “Indian Knowledge Systems: A Multidisciplinary Approach in Higher Education” was successfully organized by KC Das Commerce College on February 7-8, 2025 in collaboration with Arya Vidyapeeth College (Autonomous), Sadou Assam Satra Mahasabha, and Hare Krishna Movement, Guwahati, stated a press release.

Diganta Biswa Sarma, member of the Advisory Board of Sahitya Akademi and professor of the Department of Sanskrit at Gauhati University, delivered the keynote address at the inaugural session. He said that the New Education Policy 2020 has placed special emphasis on this traditional repository of the Indian knowledge system. According to the release, Dr Hrishikesh Baruah stressed that teachers must be equipped with the traditional and ancient Indian knowledge system in order to impart quality teaching to their students.

In the inaugural session, Dr Pradip Kumar Bhattacharya, principal, Arya Vidyapeeth College (A); Gautamananda Goswami, general secretary (in-charge), Sadou Assam Satra Mahasabha and Bijoy Prabhu, vice president, Hare Krishna Movement, Guwahati also delivered speeches on various aspects of Indian knowledge systems and its relevance to contemporary society. Dr Swapna Smriti Mahanta, HoD of Department of Assamese, KC Das Commerce College, hosted the inaugural session.